Outgoing Club President Message

It is with immense gratitude and pride that I pen this message for Inspire, the newsletter of the Leo Club of Piliyandala.

Serving as Club President during the past Leoistic year under the theme “Resilience. Strength. Unity.” has been one of the most meaningful chapters of my Leo journey. The year brought challenges, opportunities, unforgettable memories, and, most importantly, a team that stood together through every moment.

Resilience taught us to rise stronger from every challenge. Strength and unity were truly reflected in the incredible teamwork among our club and fellow Leo clubs. The support extended to one another, the willingness to collaborate, and the friendships built across clubs reminded us that Leoism becomes stronger when we stand together and support one another.

Looking back, I am grateful for every project, success, and challenge that shaped us. My heartfelt appreciation goes to every Leo who contributed to our journey.

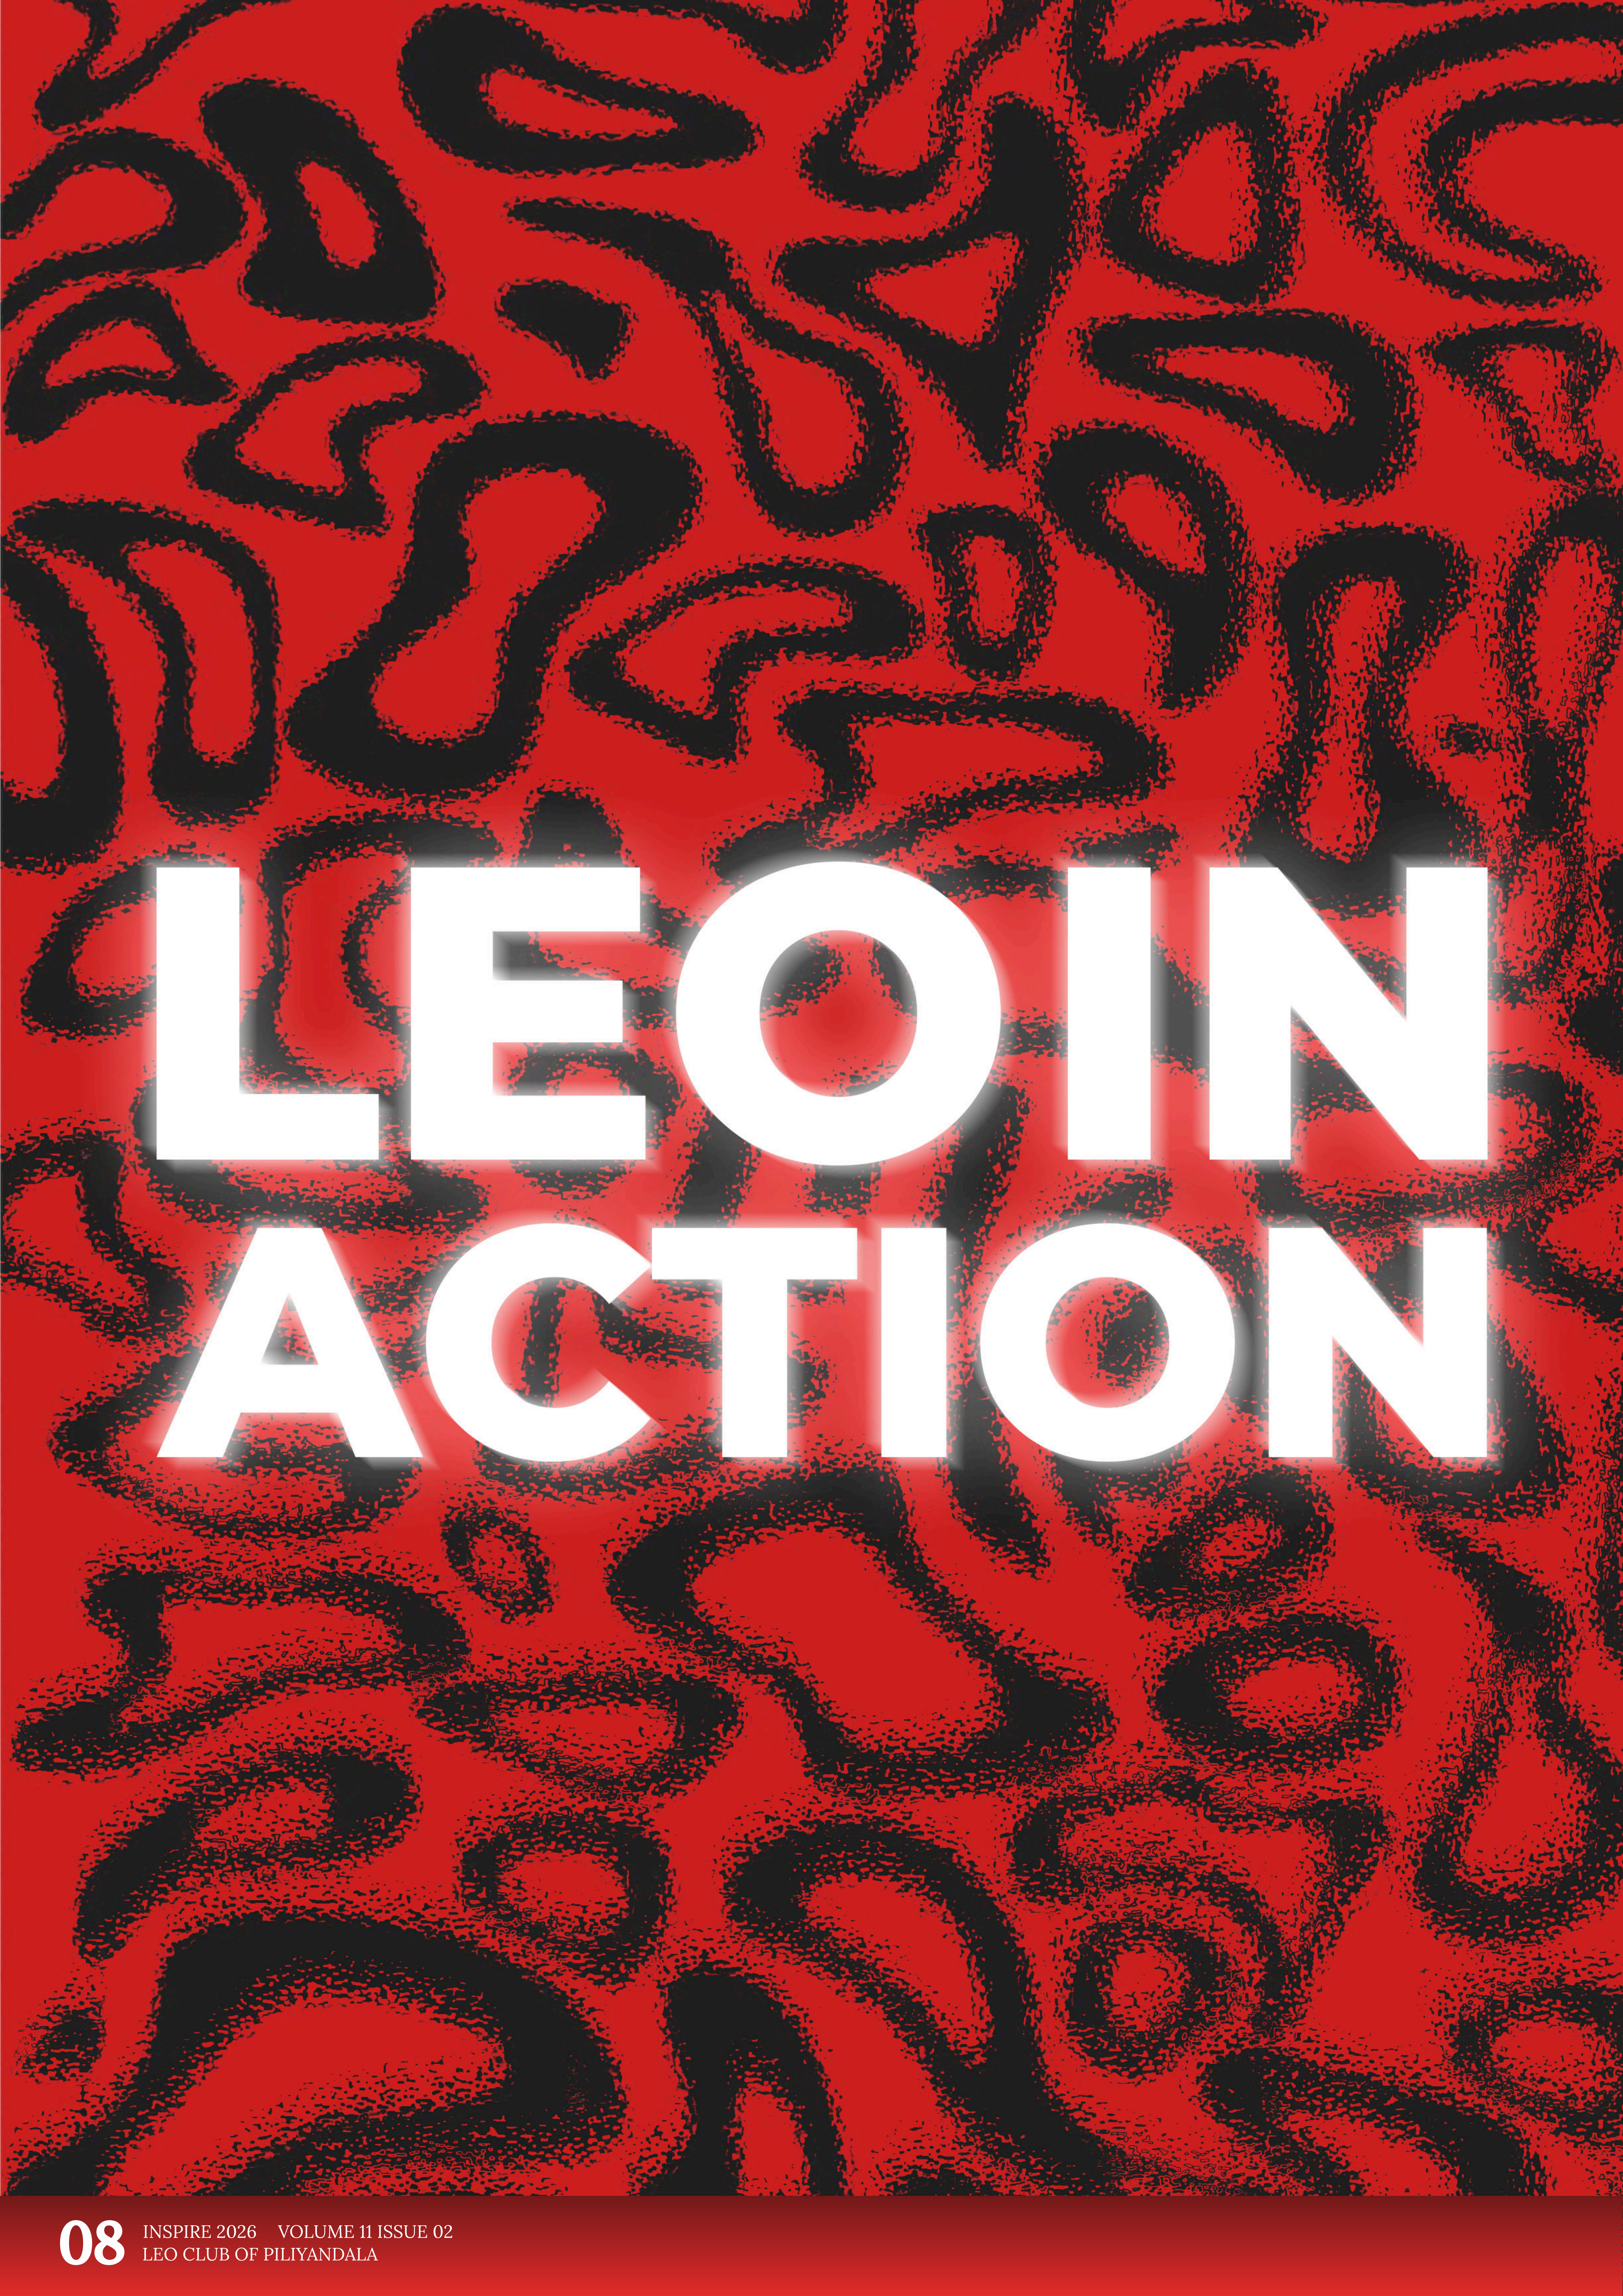

As Immediate Past Club President, I wish the new Executive Committee every success. Continue to serve with purpose, lead with compassion, and keep the spirit of Pili Pride alive.

Keep inspiring, keep serving, keep growing together.

Lift. Lead. Legacy.

24TH INSTALLATION CEREMONY

When Leadership Takes Flight

An installation is often seen as a ceremony, a day of badges, handshakes, photographs, and speeches. But for the Leo Club of Piliyandala, our installation represents something much greater: the moment when ideas become commitments and young voices step forward to serve.

As the new Leo leadership was installed, we were reminded that a title alone does not make a leader. Leadership is built through the willingness to listen, the courage to take responsibility, the ability to bring people together, and most importantly, the heart to serve without expecting anything in return.

This year, we carry a simple yet powerful vision: Lift • Lead • Legacy.

Lift is about looking beyond ourselves. It is about giving someone hope, creating opportunities, supporting our community, and reminding others that they are not alone.

Lead is about becoming the kind of young leaders who do not simply give instructions, but stand alongside their teams. We want to learn by doing, grow through challenges, and turn every member into someone who feels confident enough to make a difference.

And Legacy is the question we want to keep with us throughout the year: What will remain after our year is over?

A successful Leo year should not be measured only by the number of projects completed. It should be measured by the people who were touched, the members who discovered their potential, the communities that became stronger, and the ideas that continue even after the final meeting of the year.

Our installation therefore marks more than the beginning of a new board. It marks the beginning of a shared responsibility. Every member has a place in this journey, whether they are leading from the front, working quietly behind the scenes, creating ideas, organizing projects, or simply showing up when someone needs help.

There will undoubtedly be challenges. There will be plans that change, unexpected obstacles, and moments when the road ahead is uncertain. But that is where true Leoism is found—not when everything goes according to plan, but when we choose to keep moving forward together.

As we step into this year, we do not promise perfection. We promise purpose. We promise to serve with sincerity, lead with courage, and create memories that matter.

The badge we wear represents our position.
The projects we do represent our service.
But the impact we leave behind and that will represent our leadership.

Our installation was only one day.

What we build from it will define our year.

Lift. Lead. Legacy.

DIABE CARE

Diabe Care, a community health initiative, was successfully organized by the Leo Club of University of Moratuwa in collaboration with the Leo Club of Piliyandala. The project aimed to raise awareness about diabetes, promote healthier lifestyle habits, and take a meaningful step toward fostering a healthier community.

Supported by S.M.K Pharmacy, the initiative provided valuable health-focused support and resources to local participants. The organizing clubs extended their heartfelt gratitude to S.M.K Pharmacy, all supporters, and everyone who dedicated their time and efforts to make the event impactful. Through Diabe Care, the Leo Club of University of Moratuwa and the Leo Club of Piliyandala successfully combined service and community welfare, creating a memorable and positive impact on public health.

පියවර 4.0

Piyawara 4.0 was successfully organized on August 28 by the Pillimathara Leo and Lion Club, in collaboration with the Piliyandala Leo Clubs, Mawiththara Leo and Lion Clubs, Kandy High Girls' Leo Clubs, and Matara Nilwala. The project focused on cleaning the Kandy city after the Perahera session, encouraging participants to come together and contribute to keeping the city clean and beautiful. Through this meaningful initiative, the participants demonstrated their commitment to environmental responsibility and community service.

The project was not only a valuable community service activity but also a wonderful opportunity to build friendships, strengthen teamwork, and create lasting memories. Working together after the Perahera made the experience especially meaningful and enjoyable for everyone involved. Piyawara 4.0 became a wonderful memory for all the participants while highlighting the power of unity and collective effort in serving the community.

DAYS THAT INSPIRE

INTERNATIONAL YOUTH DAY

DIFFERENT CONTEXTS, COMMON ASPIRATIONS

Every year on 12 August, the world celebrates International Youth Day, recognizing the creativity, leadership, energy, and contributions of young people. The day also highlights the challenges faced by youth and the importance of creating opportunities for them to participate meaningfully in society.

The theme for International Youth Day 2026 is “Different Contexts, Common Aspirations.” Although young people live in different social, economic, cultural, and geographical circumstances, many share common aspirations: dignity, quality education, decent work, meaningful participation, equal opportunities, and a sustainable future.

Young people in Least Developed Countries, Landlocked Developing Countries, and Small Island Developing States often face additional challenges, including poverty, climate change, geographical isolation, limited economic opportunities, and unequal access to digital technologies. Despite these challenges, they continue to demonstrate resilience, leadership, and innovation.

The United Nations emphasizes that young people should be recognized as active partners in creating change, not simply as recipients of support. Future-ready skills such as digital and AI literacy, critical thinking, problem-solving, empathy, and resilience can help youth navigate a rapidly changing world.

The 2026 observance highlights global solidarity, shared challenges, and youth innovation. By investing in education, skills, opportunities, and meaningful youth participation, communities and nations can empower young people to shape a more inclusive, resilient, and sustainable future.

Different contexts may shape young people's lives, but their aspirations unite them. Let us listen to their voices, support their ideas, and create opportunities for them to lead change—today and tomorrow.

WORLD HUMANITARIAN DAY

World Humanitarian Day is more than a day to recognize those who help others. It is a reminder of something much simpler:

We can choose to care.

Humanitarianism does not always begin with a major project or a grand gesture. Sometimes, it begins with a helping hand, a kind word, a meal shared, or simply being there for someone who needs support.

For the Leo Club of Piliyandala, this is the heart of Leoism. We may not be able to solve every problem, but we can choose not to look away. We can notice the people who need support and turn our compassion into action.

Our theme, “Lift • Lead • Legacy,” reflects this commitment.

- Lift others through kindness and service.
- Lead by becoming an example for others.
- Leave a Legacy through the lives and communities we touch.

On this World Humanitarian Day, we remember the volunteers and humanitarian workers who dedicate themselves to helping others, often without recognition.

But we also remind ourselves that humanitarianism is not reserved for extraordinary people.

It begins with ordinary people choosing to do something extraordinary for someone else.

As Leos, may we continue to serve with compassion, lead with courage, and leave behind a legacy of kindness.

Lift. Lead. Legacy.

Because humanity is not just something we celebrate. It is something we choose.

WOMEN'S EQUALITY DAY

CELEBRATING PROGRESS, INSPIRING CHANGE

Women's Equality Day, observed annually on 26 August in the United States, commemorates the certification of the 19th Amendment in 1920, which recognized women's constitutional right to vote. The day honors the generations of women who faced opposition, sacrifice, and hardship in their long struggle for equal rights.

The journey towards equality was shaped by the courage and determination of countless women who challenged social and political barriers. In 1970, the Women's Strike for Equality brought renewed attention to demands for equal opportunities in employment and education, childcare, and broader gender equality. The following year, Congresswoman Bella Abzug championed legislation to designate 26 August as Women's Equality Day; Congress formally designated the observance in 1973.

Women's Equality Day is not only a celebration of historical progress but also a reminder that the journey towards full equality continues. Equality Now highlights the importance of addressing discrimination and protecting the rights of women and girls, while encouraging individuals and organizations to contribute to lasting change.

The day invites us to reflect on the achievements of the past while recognizing the work that remains. Creating a more equal society requires everyone to challenge discrimination, support equal opportunities, amplify women's voices, and ensure that women and girls can participate fully in social, economic, and political life.

Women's Equality Day reminds us that progress begins with courage, grows through collective action, and becomes meaningful when equality is a reality for everyone.

INTERNATIONAL DAY OF THE WORLD'S INDIGENOUS PEOPLES

Celebrating Culture Protecting Identity and Honoring Indigenous Voices

Every year on August 9 the world observes the International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples a day dedicated to recognizing the rich cultures, traditions, knowledge and contributions of Indigenous communities around the globe.

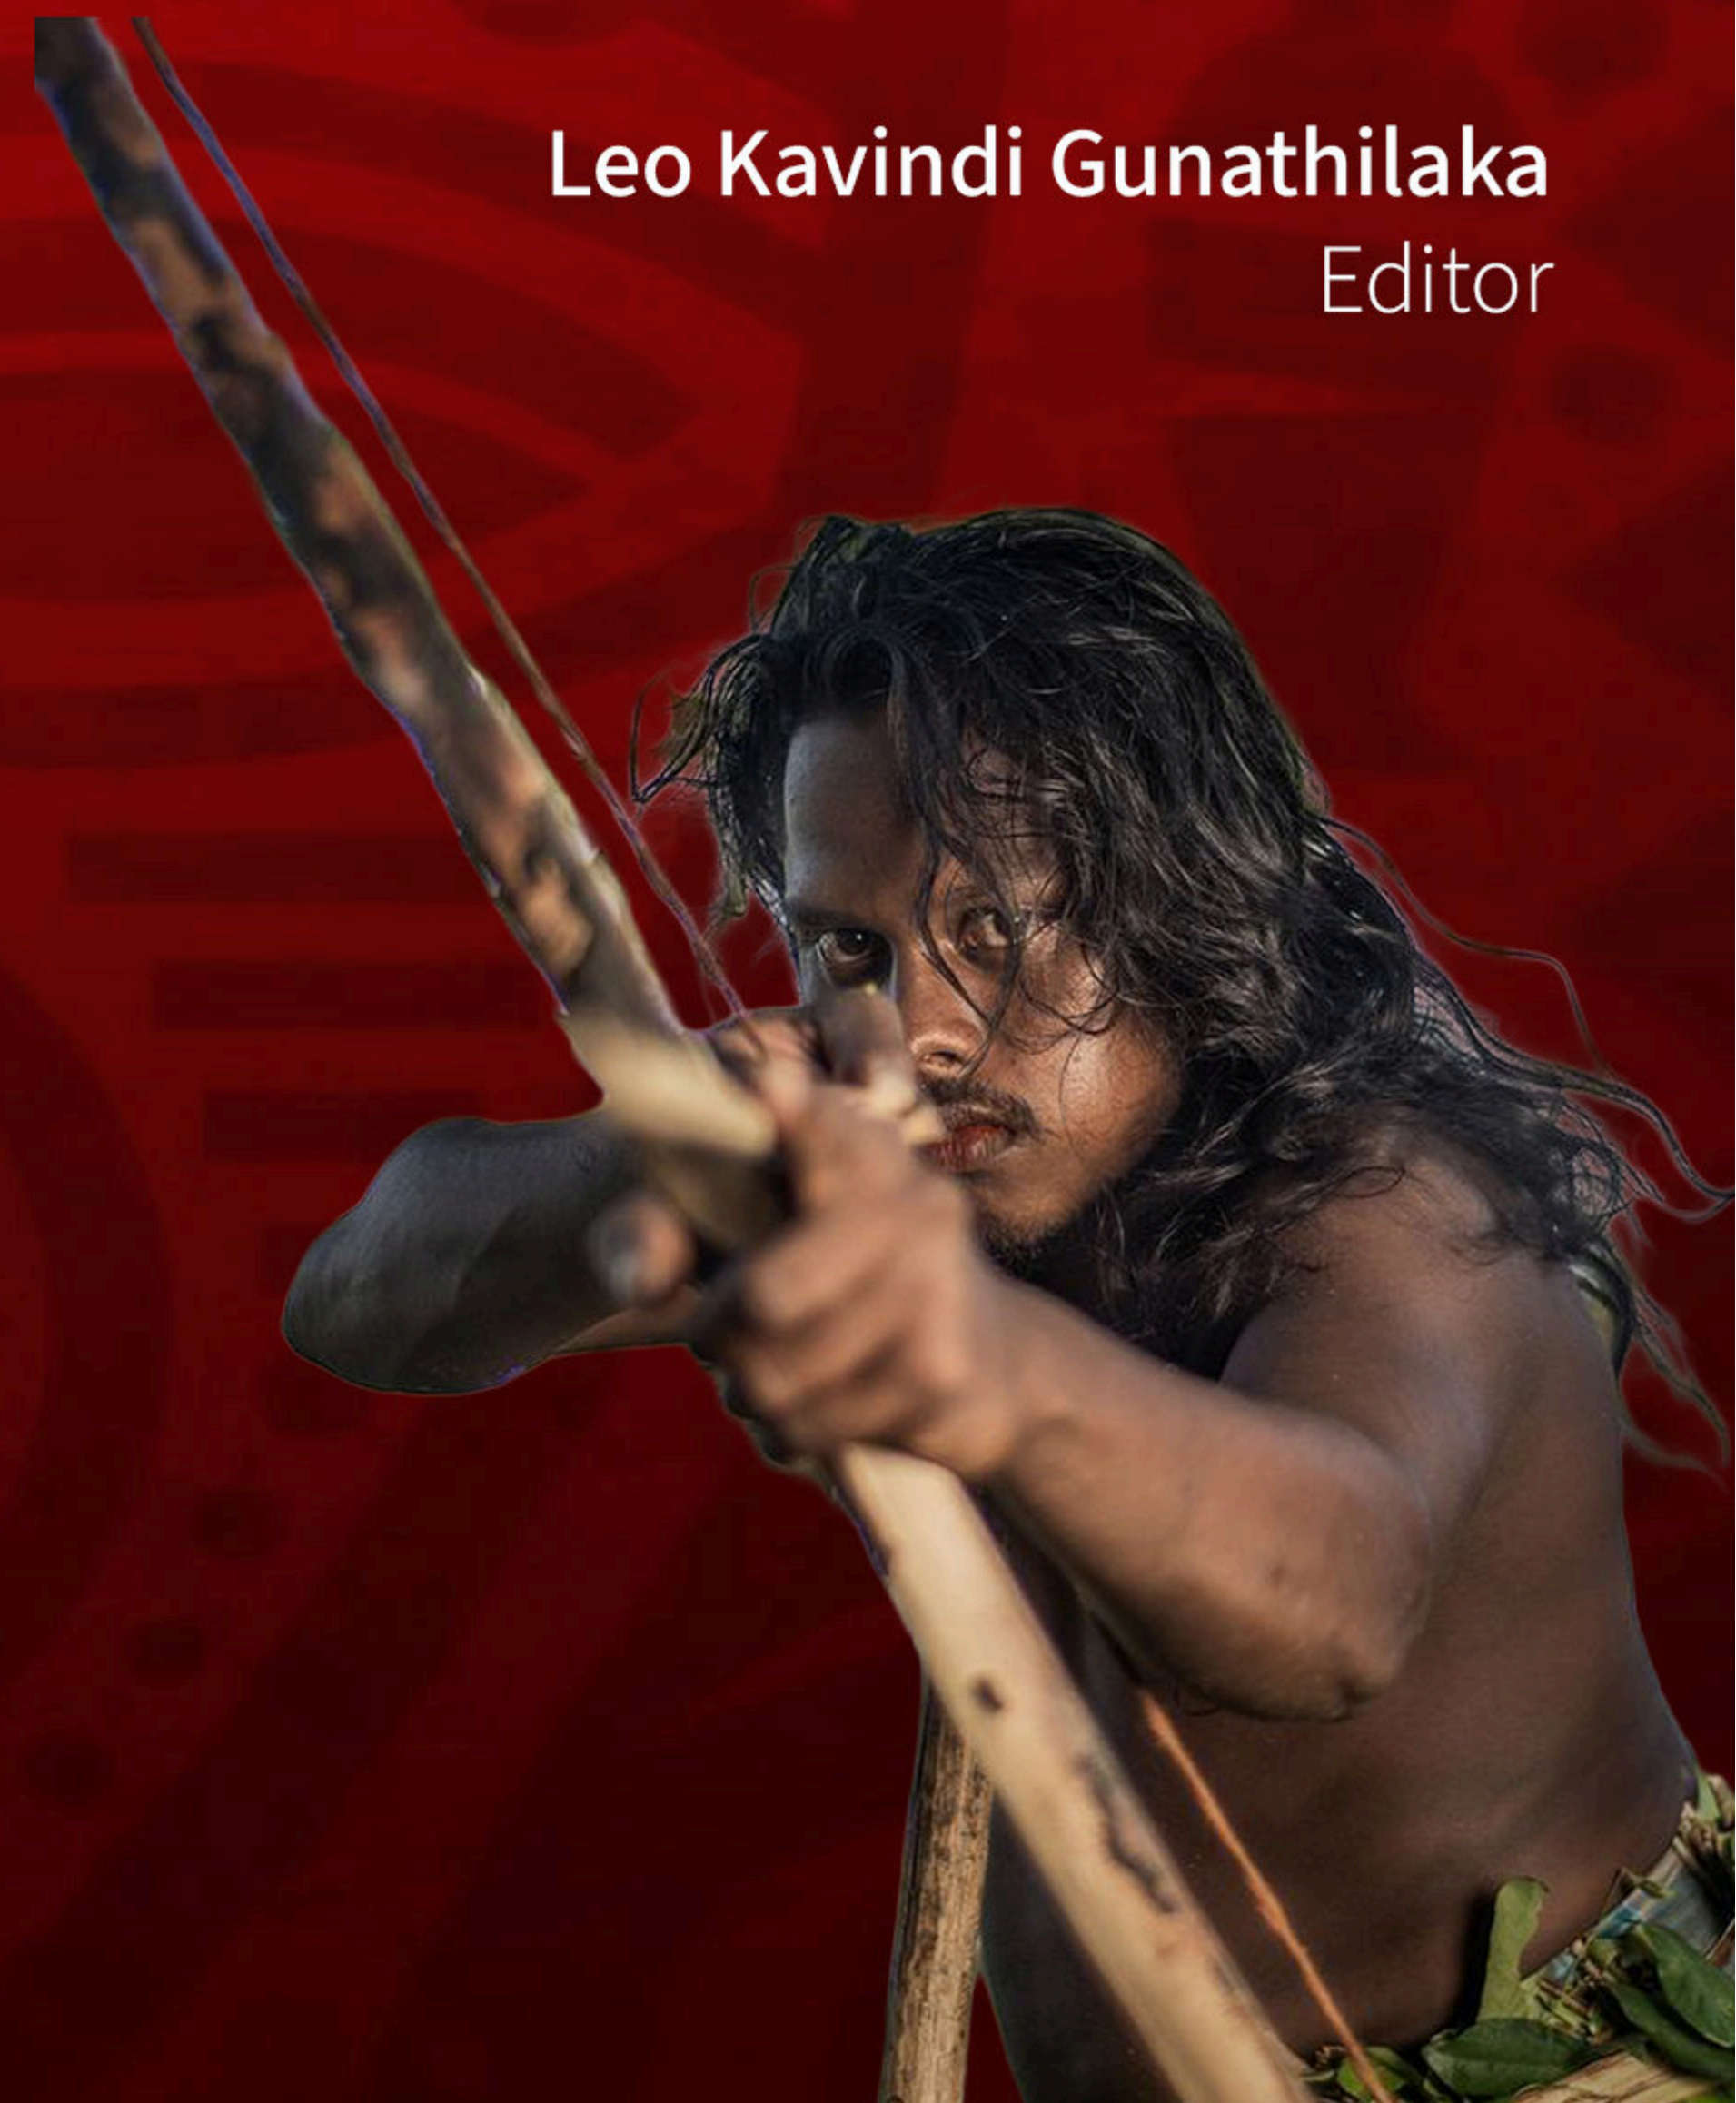

Indigenous peoples have lived in harmony with nature for generations, preserving languages, customs, traditional knowledge and ways of life. Their deep connection with the environment has also provided lessons about conservation, sustainability and responsible living.

The day also highlights the challenges faced by communities, including discrimination, loss of traditional lands threats to languages and cultural heritage and limited access to opportunities. It reminds us that protecting rights is an important part of building a fair and inclusive world.

In Sri Lanka, the Vedda (Wanniyalaeto) community represents a part of the country's Indigenous heritage. Their traditional knowledge, cultural practices and close relationship with the environment are valuable elements of Sri Lanka's cultural diversity.

The International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples is more, than a celebration—it is a call to listen, respect, protect and preserve cultures and rights. By valuing their voices and learning from their knowledge we can help create a world where every culture and community is respected and given the opportunity to thrive.

King of the Wilderness

The Sri Lankan Leopard

The Sri Lankan leopard also called Panthera pardus kotiya is one of the island's iconic and magnificent wild animals. As a subspecies Sri Lankan leopard can be found mainly in forests, grasslands and protected areas across Sri Lanka. Known for its coat covered with distinctive dark rosettes Sri Lankan leopard is a powerful and intelligent predator that plays an important role in maintaining the balance of the ecosystem.

Unlike other leopard populations Sri Lankan leopard has adapted to live in a variety of habitats from dry-zone forests to the misty mountains of the central highlands. Sri Lankan leopard's ability to survive in environments makes Sri Lankan leopard an important symbol of Sri Lanka's rich biodiversity.

However habitat loss, human activity, road accidents and other threats continue to endanger these creatures. Protecting Sri Lankan leopard's habitats and promoting responsible wildlife tourism are essential for Sri Lankan leopard's survival.

The Sri Lankan leopard is more, than a symbol of the wild—it is a part of our natural heritage. By protecting Sri Lankan leopard and its habitats we can ensure that the "King of the Wilderness" continues to roam for generations to come.

WHEN TECHNOLOGY MEETS HUMANITY

Technology is changing the way we learn, communicate, work, and serve. But the real question is not how advanced technology can become, it is how wisely we choose to use it.

For today's youth, technology is no longer simply a tool. It is part of everyday life. From artificial intelligence and digital communication to social media and online learning, technology gives us opportunities that previous generations could only imagine.

Yet, with greater technology comes greater responsibility.

As young leaders and volunteers, we have the opportunity to use technology beyond entertainment. We can use it to spread awareness, organize community projects, connect people, promote causes, raise funds, and give a voice to those who may otherwise remain unheard.

Artificial intelligence, in particular, is opening new doors. It can help us generate ideas, analyze information, improve communication, and find creative solutions to real world problems. But AI should never replace human compassion, creativity, or responsibility.

Technology can create the connection, but humanity gives it meaning.

As Leos, our challenge is to become not just users of technology, but responsible digital leaders. We must think before we share, question what we see, protect our privacy, and use our digital presence to create something positive.

The future will undoubtedly bring technologies we cannot yet imagine.

What matters is whether we are ready to use them wisely.

Because the smartest technology in the world means little without a human heart behind it.

Lift with technology. Lead with responsibility. Leave a digital legacy worth remembering.

KANDY ESALA PERAHERA

The Kandy Esala Perahera is one of Sri Lanka's spectacular and culturally significant festivals. Held every year in the city of Kandy the Perahera is a grand event that blends religion, tradition, music, dance and artistic heritage into a single powerful procession.

At the heart of the festival is the Temple of the Sacred Tooth Relic. This temple holds the Sacred Tooth Relic of the Buddha an object that draws deep reverence from Buddhists across the country and beyond. For generations the Kandy Esala Perahera has served as a powerful expression of Buddhist devotion and a key part of Sri Lankan cultural identity.

During the event the procession winds through the streets of Kandy. It is led by adorned elephants and tuskiers walking with grace and dignity. They are followed by Kandyan dancers, drummers, flag bearers, fire performers and other cultural groups. The rhythmic beats of drums fill the air and the vibrant colors of the costumes create a lively and dazzling scene that stands out in the night.

This festival is not just about practice. It is also a celebration of Sri Lanka's living heritage. The Kandy Esala Perahera brings together people from walks of life. Locals and tourists alike gather to witness the traditions that have been passed down through the ages. It gives generations the chance to see, feel and participate in customs that have been preserved for centuries.

The Kandy Esala Perahera is more, than a festival. It is a living symbol of faith, history, unity and Sri Lankan cultural pride. Every beat of the drum every step of the elephant every dance movement tells a story. It is a moment where past and present meet, where tradition continues to shine bright.

SIGIRIYA

THE EIGHTH WONDER OF THE ANCIENT WORLD

A TIMELESS MARVEL RISING FROM THE HEART OF SRI LANKA

Sigiriya rises dramatically above the forests of Sri Lanka's Cultural Triangle. Sigiriya is one of the island's remarkable historical treasures. Sigiriya is often called the "Eighth Wonder of the World." Sigiriya is a rock fortress that mixes history, architecture, art and breathtaking natural beauty.

Built during the reign of King Kashyapa I in the century Sigiriya became a magnificent royal citadel. The massive rock rises 200 metres above the surrounding plains. Sigiriya offers views of the forests and landscapes below.

The journey to the top takes visitors through pathways, gardens, ponds and impressive stone structures. One of Sigiriya's famous features is the enormous Lion's Paws, standing at the entrance to the final climb. These remains remind Sigiriya of the architecture that once existed on the summit.

Another highlight is the Sigiriya Frescoes, paintings on the rock face created over a thousand years ago. Nearby the Mirror Wall holds inscriptions and writings left by visitors centuries ago giving a fascinating glimpse into history.

Sigiriya was not a fortress but also a remarkable example of ancient engineering. Sigiriya's sophisticated gardens and water systems show knowledge of the people who designed and built the site. The planned gardens, surrounded by natural landscapes continue to impress visitors today.

Beyond its importance Sigiriya is a place where culture and nature come together. From the top of the rock visitors enjoy a view of Sri Lanka's green forests, villages and distant mountains.

Today Sigiriya stands as a symbol of Sri Lanka's heritage and the creativity of its ancient civilization. Sigiriya reminds us that the achievements of the past can continue to inspire generations in the present.

Sigiriya is more, than a rock—it is a story carved into stone, a masterpiece of human imagination and a timeless symbol of Sri Lanka.

YOUNG ATHLETES, BIG DREAMS

A great athlete begins with a dream. I notice that dream start on a school ground a neighborhood court or a simple running track. Those places may not have equipment, professional coaches or perfect facilities but they have something more powerful—a dream and the determination to pursue it.

Young athletes are not training their bodies; young athletes are building their character. Every practice teaches young athletes discipline, patience, teamwork and perseverance. Young athletes learn that success is not made in a moment. Success comes from waking up practicing repeatedly learning from mistakes and refusing to give up when things become difficult.

The journey is not always easy. Injuries, defeats, pressure and limited opportunities can challenge athletes' confidence.. These challenges often become the moments that make young athletes stronger. A loss can teach more than a victory. A setback can become the beginning of a greater comeback.

Behind every athlete is often a family, a coach, a teacher or a friend who believes in the potential of the young athlete. Their encouragement can turn a passion into a lifelong pursuit. Communities also have a role to play by creating opportunities for the young athlete to participate in sports and develop their talents.

For athletes the goal should not only be to win medals or break records. The goal should also be to become stronger, more confident and better prepared for life.

The dreams of the athlete may begin on a small field but the ambitions of the young athlete can reach far beyond that field.

Because every champion was once an athlete, with nothing but a dream.
